Re : Invitation for screening test for cervical cancer

Dear J. Doe,

We invite you to participate in the national screening programme for cervical cancer. Cervical cancer occurs most commonly in women between the ages of 30 and 60. This screening test is able to detect cervical cancer at a very early stage or even at a stage before it turns into cervical cancer. This is important. The earlier it is detected, the better it can be treated. Participating in the screening programme is free of charge. You decide for yourself if you want to participate. The leaflet can help you to make the choice.

How is the screening test done?

We use a smear test to look for cervical cancer at a very early stage. In the leaflet we explain how the test is done. For more information see: www.bevolkingsonderzoekbaarmoederhalskanker.nl.

How to participate

- Make an appointment for a smear test with your GP practice. You can have the smear test done by a female practice nurse. It is important to take this letter with the stickers with you to the appointment.
- If you don't want to participate because you feel uncomfortable about having a smear test, then you can do a self-test at home. The self-test kit can be requested via Mijn Bevolkingsonderzoek on www.bevolkingsonderzoeknederland.nl. You can also contact us by telephone or send an e-mail.

Short films about the screening: scan the QR code or see www.rivm.nl/uk.
Filmpjes over het onderzoek: scan de QR-code of ga naar www.rivm.nl/filmpjes.
Araştırmayla ilgili videolar: QR kodunu tarayın veya www.rivm.nl/tr adresine gidin.
